FROM THE DESK OF FATHER BLANEY...

A friend send this message to me from a Nerburn writing:

"We are not saints, we are not heroes. Our lives are lived in the quiet corners of the ordinary. We build tiny hearth fires, sometimes barely strong enough to give off warmth. But to the person lost in the darkness, our tiny flame may be the road to safety, the path to salvation."

"It is not given to us to know who is lost in the darkness that surrounds us or even if our light is seen. We can only know that against even the smallest of lights, darkness cannot stand. A sailor lost at sea can be guided home by a single candle. A person lost in the wood can be led to safety by a flickering flame. It is not an issue of quality or intensity or purity. It is simply an issue of the presence of light."

I've thought of this message and it surely reflected my mother. She never considered herself a saint or a hero. But she lit a light of truth by her words and her life. When I was quite young she took in a fellow who had a serious drinking problem.

She was not successful in getting him to stop at that time. But later he stopped drinking altogether, married a fine wife and had two great children. Who knows what light showed him the way home?

A young woman whose family really couldn't feed another mouth – times were hard – came to live with us. For her senior year in high school, my mother made sure she was invited to the high school prom. And the young lady had a new dress for the special occasion. She grew up, married well, moved to California, but did not forget her guiding light in my mother.

Then there was the time – a Thanksgiving Day feast. Mom and I were doing the dishes. (You see I was the youngest boy and I had no sisters.) Mom had a very large platter – used for the turkey. It was an heirloom, very precious to my mother. She cautioned me to be very careful in wiping it (all dishes in those days were washed and dried by hand). I've always been clumsy. Sure enough I dropped it and it broke into a zillion pieces. My mother's face betrayed a real horror. She stopped and tried to put the pieces together. That simply was not going to work. She looked at me and realized that I was terribly sorry. She said to me that I was more important than the plate and patted me on the head. Those are words that I have tried to live by ever since. Not only for meself but for other people and other abled people. Shortly after me mother said that she went into my parent's bedroom with me father following. The door was shut and I know that she cried very hard for some time. But her words of truth – her light – has guided me home many times.

I hope that this month of May you can reflect on your mother's light of truth in her words or life. And see how she has helped you to find your way. Has she been a presence of light?!!

SHARING MEADOWS PRODUCT OF THE MONTH

May's featured product is unique and beautiful gourd bird houses, a perfect gift for any father! These birdhouses are made from gourds of various sizes, grown here at Sharing Meadows by the Villagers. The gourds are emptied then dried out. After they are completely dry, the houses are sealed to make them durable in the outdoors. On some of the gourds there is a perch below the entrance into the birdhouse, on others the entrance is left open. They are a natural brown color and have wires on top for hanging off of a tree branch. Since they are made from different gourds, each bird house is different and unique.

All proceeds from the sale of items go directly into the vocational training program to benefit our villagers. Come to the St. Timothy Center from 8 a.m. – 4 p.m. Monday through Friday to view all of our gourd bird houses or call Monica at the office at 219-778-2585 and she'll send one to you. When you call, please specify whether you would like a larger or smaller house. The gourd bird houses make wonderful gifts – for your self, your father, or any one else – and purchasing one supports our vocational training program. The villagers thank you!

THOUGHTS FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

By Kathleen Kelly

May is always a bittersweet month for me. Commercials on television, advertisements in the newspaper and displays in the stores are all promoting Mother's Day. As I see the bouquets of flowers, boxes of candy, sparkly jewelry and beautiful cards, I feel of twinge of sadness that I can't thank my Mom for all that she has done for me. The sadness only lasts for a minute because one of the many lessons I learned from her was that self pity was a waste of time and that was time that could be better spent helping a person who needed it. How many times she'd say, "You want sympathy, look in the dictionary." She was trying to help me think of others instead of myself and her delightful Irish sense of humor helped her teach that lesson with a smile and a twinkle in her eye.

Mom not only taught with her words but more importantly, by her actions. Many of my childhood memories are centered around Mom driving a neighbor to a doctor's appointment, serving as room mother at our school, (since she had 5 children, she had lots of experience in room mothering!) volunteering at the local hospital for more years than I can remember, and always being deeply involved in the church. What was amazing about Mom sharing her time with others was that her family was never shortchanged. Somehow she found the right balance of family and others and she truly practiced what she preached.

I think of Mom often and especially when I find myself using some of her tried and true advice. She encouraged me when I needed a push and held me back when I was tempted to leap without looking and I'm happy that she did since her guidance and nurturing helped me become the person I am today. I have tried to live up to my mother's standards and carry on the goodness of her life and remembering some of the lessons she taught me often brings a smile to my face.

Sometimes people who knew my mother say that they can see her in me and I am proud of that. When I spend time with others, sometimes I also notice mannerisms and words that remind me of their mother. It's a joy to be with our villagers and recognize traits of their mothers in them. One villager is quiet and soft spoken, another is assertive and vocal, still another is polite and well mannered. Each one of them is unique and adds something special to our community. We have talked together about our mothers and I hope that each villager always cherishes the special attributes that makes them their own person and realizes that they have much to be thankful for on Mother's Day and throughout the year. I know that frequently I find myself voicing a simple "thanks, Mom" when I realize that the values she instilled in me have enhanced my life and that her goodness lives on.

I CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE

May is simply a glorious month, don't you agree? The grass has come in rich and green. You can still leave your window open to the coolness of the night. The heat of the day has not yet become unbearable. The baseball season is now in full swing. And summer stretches endlessly before us.

May is also the month when we celebrate, or remember, the women who have made a difference in our lives. When I was young, Mother's Day was easy. We made cards with construction paper and crayons - sometimes glue, but not if Mom or Dad could help it. Sometimes we made breakfast in bed for Mom. That was easy because she is neither a coffee nor a tea drinker. We always tried to find the best pin or necklace or fancy perfume bottle at the local five and ten store. And Dad never failed to take my brother and me to see a baseball game. At the time, I could never figure it out, but Mom almost always stayed home. What kind of gift is that, I wondered? However, now that we are older and neither my brother nor I live at "home" anymore, heading off to the ballpark might not be the gift it once was. Just to be on the safe side, however, Dad will still find a team playing at home that day and occupy a seat along the first base line.

When I think of my Mother, I think about all of the advice she has given me down through the years. Perhaps you too recognize some of these gems:

Do you think the laundry fairy comes in and cleans your clothes?
Stand up straight.
Don't cross your eyes like that; they'll freeze that way!
Eat your carrots (or broccoli, or spinach, or Lima beans) they're good for you.
Don't talk with your mouth full.
Answer me when I am talking to you.
Because I said so.
Because I am the Mom.
Do you think money grows on trees?
Would you jump off a bridge just because everyone else was jumping off a bridge?
Someday you will thank me for this.
Do you really want to be like everyone else?
Where do you think you are going dressed like that?
Take your little brother with you.
Take your little sister with you.
This is going to hurt me more than it hurts you.
Do you think I spent all that money on braces so you could blow bubbles with your gum?
But that most frequently handed down piece of wisdom was "I told you so." Arrrggh!!!

But, seriously, stop and think about what a difference your own Mom (or person who fulfilled that role in your life) has made in your life. Awesome, isn't it?

One of my Aunt's favorite Bible passages tells us that there is no greater love than to lay down one's life for a friend. When I was a kid, that sounded nice. Can you imagine loving someone that much? I could hardly fathom that. It is only since I have moved out, started a career, paid my own bills and run my own household that I have begun to appreciate all of the love and sacrifice that must go into raising a child. Being an adult is sometimes no fun. You have to look out for yourself. But sometimes, we get lucky. Someone comes along and cares for us. It is wonderful to have a friend, sibling, an aunt, and a grandmother—a mother looking out for us. This Mother's Day honor the important women in your life by passing on their legacies. You can make a difference in the life of someone else and it doesn't have to be big, to feel big.

SUMMER CAMP ENTERTAINMENT

Do you wish that you could contribute to Camp Sharing Meadows in a meaningful way, but you aren't able to dedicate an entire week to being a counselor, cook, or nurse? Do you have talents that you can share with others? If so, please consider volunteering some of your evenings this summer as a camp entertainer. We have welcomed a variety of talents including vocalists, singing groups, piano players, clowns, and even magicians. Campers and staff alike appreciate the entertainers who generously share their time and talents to make a unique camp experience. Please call the Camp Director, Sandy, at 219-778-2585 to learn more or to select a time that is convenient for you to join us!

CAMP CORNER

April's mini camp was another great success! The beautiful weather allowed us to have many activities outdoors, including the Easter egg hunt! It's almost unbelievable that May will be our last mini camp until the Fall! May's mini camp is May 19-21 and the theme will be "The good work of being you as you are." If you can't make it to the May mini-camp, make sure to put on your dancing shoes and come to the last dance of the season! It will be on Saturday, May 20th from 6:30-9pm and it's only $2 per person! We look forward to seeing you there!!

Although this is our last mini-camp of the Spring, the good news is that Summer Camp is just around the corner!! The weeks are filling up fast, so send in your registration form today, or call Sandy to receive one! The weeks for summer camp are:

June 11 – 16

June 25 – 30

July 9 – 14

June 18 – 23

July 2 – 7

July 16 – 21

Since there will be an additional week of camp this year, we are in more need than ever for caring, compassionate individuals who would like to volunteer for a week as a counselor, nurse, or cook. Each week runs from Sunday afternoon until Friday afternoon, so weekends are free. Room and board is provided and a small grant is given for each week of camp you serve. No previous experience working with other abled adults is necessary; the desire to be a loving and patient companion to our wonderful campers is all that is required. Training is provided in a mandatory orientation.

Each week a new group of 25 campers arrive at Sharing Meadows, along with the staff including a nurse, cooks, and counselors. Come for one week or all 6! Each counselor is paired with 2 or 3 campers for the week. The counselor acts as a companion to the campers, as well as monitoring their personal needs and assisting them as necessary. This allows each of our campers to receive individual attention they need within a caring, group oriented environment. Every day consists of a combination of a group discussion, games, sports, crafts, swimming, and more. For more information or to receive a staff application please call Sandy Furman at 219-778-2585. Hidden Winner: Andy and Barbara Torma, Trail Creek, IN 46360

SPRING LUNCHEON

This year's Spring Luncheon, held on April 5th at the Halls of St. George, was a tremendous success. Over 700 guests gathered to enjoy lunch while supporting the programs at Sharing Meadows. The room was beautifully decorated with pastel colored napkins and programs on the tables and balloons and spring flowers as centerpieces. Father Blaney spoke about love and gave the invocation before lunch. The scrumptious meal served by the staff of the Halls of St. George included salad, bread, roasted chicken, red potatoes, vegetables and ice cream and homemade cookies for dessert! The cookies were also sold to raise additional support for Sharing Meadows and were baked with love by the members of the Service League and the St. John's Women's Club. Just after dessert, the Villagers of Sharing Meadows did a choreographed performance to the song "Easter Parade" and all of the ladies on stage had lovely handmade bonnets! Door prizes and table prizes provided by many local businesses, individuals, and Service League members were distributed to many lucky guests. It was a wonderful afternoon in the company of so many Share Foundation supporters.

The dedicated group of women who are members of the Share Foundation Service League planned and executed the entire event. These women sold Luncheon tickets, gathered door prizes, assembled gift baskets, baked hundreds of cookies, arranged for everything from the seating in the room to the decorations on the tables, and worked throughout the event to make sure everything ran smoothly. This wonderful event would not be possible without the dedication and support of these women. All of us at Share Foundation would like to thank this amazing group of ladies: Chairperson Shirley Ladendorf, Mary Balestra, Joyce Choncoff, Theresa Codespoti, Joan Collins, Margaret Daly, Sandi Dian, Theresa Dougherty, Pat Fischer, Anne Franz, Imon Franz, Emogene Grant, Sue Krupa, Fran Lysaught, Loretta Lach, Delores Mercier, Rose Ann Nagy, Nancy Nordmann, Peggy Paulson, Jean Pickett, and Beatrice Pluard

FATHER'S DAY MEMORIALS

On May 14th we will celebrate our mothers, and on June 18th we will celebrate our fathers. It's not too early to begin thinking of how you can honor your father. Father's Day is a special day to honor the men who have enriched your life by their presence and love. Share Foundation would like to offer you the opportunity to enrich the lives of our villagers while you honor the fathers in your life. We invite you to consider making a donation for a Father's Day memorial that will be printed in the June issue of the Good News. There will be a special section for living memorials and one for deceased memorials dedicated to honoring the special men in your life. Whether you want to write your own personal message or leave the writing up to us, a donation in tribute to your father is a wonderful gift.

In order for us to include your tribute in our June newsletter, it must be received by our office on or before Thursday, June 15th. Not only is this a wonderful way to honor your husband, father, or grandfather, it is a way for their goodness to live on through the lives of our Villagers.

MEMORIALS

Memorials are a special way to honor the memory of a loved one or celebrate a special occasion for ourselves, our family, or our friends. We are grateful for all memorial donations, large and small, that are received but we want to remind you that our policy is that thank you letters and acknowledgement cards are not sent for any memorials received that are less than $10.00 per name. They will be printed in the GOOD NEWS but no cards or letters will be sent. Due to the increasing cost of paper, postage and time to send cards and letters, it is not good stewardship to spend the donations you have entrusted to us to fill mailboxes with mail.

Memorial donations of $10.00 or more per name will continue to be handled with a thank you letter, acknowledgement to family and listing in the newsletter. If you do not require a thank you letter, please mark the envelope so that we can code your account and we can save the cost of a letter and use the funds for our programs for other abled people. Thank you for your understanding!

ST. PATRICK'S DAY DINNER

Villager Bob Cayia and his father enjoyed the celebration

It was a nice day when many Irish and Irish lovers gathered for the St. Patrick's Day celebration on March 19th. Father Blaney celebrated mass in a packed Joseph Hall in the St. Timothy Center to start the festivities. Everyone then moved into the dining room for a great Irish feast prepared by Father Blaney and served by volunteers. Everyone enjoyed the corned beef and cabbage, boiled potatoes, carrots, and rye bread. Green mint chocolate chip ice cream completed the meal! After the meal everyone enjoyed entertainment by the Villagers of Sharing Meadows and had a hearty laugh during the best Irish joke contest. Mike Grant from Crown Point and father of Sharing Meadows Villager Michael Grant, won first prize for his clever joke.
