Something a little different...

Tucker Lake at the Guest House

A Need to Get Away...

Day to day you work under pressure, with little chance to spend quality time with your colleagues. In today's working world it is difficult to find time to build an effective work team and office environment. It is easy to continue to work without ever giving yourself a chance to truly take a break.

Whether your objective is to give everyone in the office a chance to get to know one another, to discuss team building strategies, or to be more innovative, you will achieve a great deal more if you get away and change your scenery. The Forcey House is a refreshing departure from the office and the facilities offered at commercial hotels. Give your group the chance to get reenergized and revived at a refreshing location.

An Office that's a Home

The Forcey House is large enough to comfortably fit up to twelve people for a corporate day retreat. There is a gas fireplace and a fully equipped kitchen that is perfect for breaks and coffee. The large windows offer ample room to view the surrounding beauty and in addition there is a fully screened in patio which would be the ideal place to have a brain storming session on a warm afternoon.

During breaks your employees can wander on any of the many trails and paths which wander throughout our 185 acre farm. They can also sit by Lake Tucker, conveniently located next to the Forcey House. They may also wish to visit our gift shop with wood and ceramic crafts made by the permanent residents of Sharing Meadows.

A perfect change of scenery.
